

How do I feel today?

This activity will allow your child to:

- Identify and recognize emotions with varying facial features

After printing the blank face templates, laminate them for durability.

How to use the blank face templates?

Talk to your child about how he/she feels each day. Have him/her to express the emotions by drawing the facial expression on the blank face templates using an erasable marker . Alternatively, your child can also use playdough to make the facial parts if he/she is not ready to handle writing instruments yet.
